INTRODUCTION TO DAR AHL AL-SUNNAH / IDARAH AHL E SUNNAT, KARACHI

Praise be to Allāh, the Sustainer of the Universe; blessings and salutations of peace be upon the most honoured among Prophets and the leader of Messengers; and also upon his descendants and his Companions and those who followed them in the best manner until the coming of Judgement day.

Idārah e Ahl e Sunnat or Dār Ahl al-Sunnah [in Arabic] has been publishing books and monographs of Imām Ahl al-Sunnah¹ and other Sunni scholars [especially Arabic works] since 2006. In the past 14 years, the organisation has published critical editions of Islamic literature spanning 16,000 pages, which include Jadd al-Mumtār, a supercommentary on Radd al-Muhtār² in 7 volumes; the latest edition of Fatāwā Ridāwiyyah in 22 volumes; Kanz al-Īymān³ along with the commentary Khazā'in al-Īrfān⁴ which are particularly worthy of mention.

Dār Ahl al-Sunnah⁵ was established on the 15th of January 2006 with the aim of publishing valuable books of our elders in line with modern demands of quality and style, and present them with cross-references and well researched texts. The main aim of the organisation is to publish the books of our elders, especially those of our master and the imām of Ahl al-Sunnah, Imām Aḥmad Ridā Khān [may Allāh's Mercy be upon them all] which have gone out of circulation.

Many of these books which are in Arabic, or in arcane Urdu are not purchased by people in our time; hence, there is no incentive for publishers and thus they are not interested in printing them. Our organisation has taken up this task of publishing these valuable books in the hope of safeguarding them from being lost for ever. There is a burden of debt on Sunnis – of knowledge and community service⁶ – which cannot be repaid

Radd al-Muhtār is known as Shāmī in the subcontinent and Ḥāshiyatu Ibn Ābidīn among Arabs and is considered as the authoritative text of Ḥanafī fiqh in the past 200 years and forms the basis of Muslim Personal Law in many countries including India and South Africa.

⁴ An exegesis of the Qur'ān in Urdu by Ṣadru'l Afāḍil Mawlānā Sayyid Naẓīmuddīn Murādābādī [1368 AH /1948 CE] .

⁵ Alternatively, Idārah e Ahl e Sunnat in Urdu.

⁶ Sunni scholars in the past 200 years have written so many useful works that are immensely needed in our time; however, we as a community have not been able to publish these gems and stem the growth of heresies.

by any single organisation. We therefore appeal to capable Sunnis who can marshall resources to establish more such organisations and preserve the scholarly heritage of our elders. Our organisation will extend any assistance it can in kind.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

Mawlānā Abu'l Qāsim Ziyā'yī and Ustadh al-Úlamā'a Állāmah Muftī Muḥammad Abū Bakr al-Shadhilī have been involved in all the efforts of our organisation since the time it was established. It would not have been possible for our organisation to be established or continue for 16 long years without the contribution of these two key figures. We thank them immensely and beseech Allāh to grant them goodness in this world and hereafter and protect them from every evil.

I also thank the hard working team of Idārah Ahl e Sunnat – I remain indebted to them and I cannot repay their many favours. Even if a person is competent and has resources, one cannot do things alone in an organised manner, and achieve success without a good and supportive team. Whatever success our organisation has achieved is the fruit of the efforts of these great people without whom, I would not have been able to do anything. Here below, I mention the names of our team members:

1. Muftī Hangūru Ábd al-Razzāq Qādirī
2. Muftī Muḥammad Kashif Mahmūd Hāshmī Qādirī
3. Muftī Muḥammad Amjad Ḥusayn Aáwān
4. Muftī Muḥammad Fārūq Siddīqī Shadhilī
5. Muftī Muḥammad Farmān Nūrī Shadhilī

I beseech Allāh to give them goodness and blessings in this world and in the Hereafter; and protect them from every evil and mischief. In spite of limited resources, our organisation has published critical editions of the many books and monographs in a short time [see next page].

THE LATEST 22-VOLUME EDITION OF THE FATAWA

By: Muftī Muḥammad Aslam Raza Memon Tahsīnī,

Idārah Ahl e Sunnat, Karachi.

Praise be to Allāh, the Sustainer of the Universe; blessings and salutations of peace be upon the most honoured among Prophets and the leader of Messengers; and also upon his descendants and his Companions

Fatāwā Razawiyyah is a rare and peerless gem in the annals of Islamic literature in Urdu. Especially on the topics of Fiqh, Uṣūl and Āqāyid, this is an authoritative source and if this can be translated into Arabic – this will attain a prominent place among the works of earlier scholars of Fiqh, Uṣūl and Kalām among the Arabs as well. This can be gauged from the impression of Arab scholars upon the publication of Arabic monographs of the imām. This collection of fatāwā was printed in 12 volumes spanning over 10,000 pages on approximately quarto size paper.⁸

- ▶ The first volume was published in the lifetime of the author in 1335 AH by Matbā Ahl e Sunnat,⁹ Bareilly.
- ▶ The second volume was published in the supervision of Ṣadru'sh Shariāh¹⁰ in 1344, nine years after the publication of the first volume.
- ▶ The fifth volume, Kitāb al-Nikāḥ, was published in four parts by Muftī Aázam e Hind,¹¹ along with his brief annotations in the supervision of Āllāmah Ḥasanayn Ridā Khān¹² by Ḥasanī Press, Bareilly, over a period of two years from 1346 AH to 1347 AH.
- ▶ Thereafter, volumes 3, 4, 6, 7 and 8 were published one after the other by Āllāmah Ḥāfiẓ Ābdu'l Ra'ūf Balyāwī [d. 1391 AH / 1971 CE] and his companions, notably our esteemed teacher Āllāmah Baḥr al-Ulūm Muftī Ābdu'l Mannān Aázamī [d. 1434 AH / 2012 CE], who was the chief editor and also supervised the project. These volumes were published by Sunni Dār al-Ishāāt, Mubarakpūr.
- ▶ Volumes 9 and 10 were published under the supervision of Dr. Qurbān Ālī and Fayzān Ālī from Besalpur, Pilibhit.
- ▶ Volume 11 was published by Mawlānā Mannān Raza Qādirī from Bareilly.
- ▶ During this period many monographs were also published separately from various publishers in different cities; all of these volumes [fatāwā and monographs] were collected, collated and published by Raza Academy, Bombay in twelve giant sized volumes in Ṣafar 1415 AH / 1994 CE.

⁸ This was the old paper size which was 24.2 mm x 30.5 mm.

⁹ Ahl e Sunnat Press.

¹⁰ Mawlānā Amjad Ālī Aázamī [d. 1367 AH / 1948 CE], author of the famous work Bahār e Shariāt.

¹¹ Mawlānā Muṣṭafā Ridā Khān [d. 1402 AH / 1981 CE], the second son of Imām Aḥmad Ridā Khān.

¹² Mawlānā Ḥasanayn Ridā Khān [d. 1401 AH / 1980 CE], Aālā Hazrat's nephew; son of Mawlānā Ḥasan Ridā Khān.

In the meantime, the onerous task of translating Arabic and Persian passages, cross-referencing and source validation had started in Jami'ah Nizamiyyah Razawiyyah, Lahore and the first volume of the critical edition was published by Raza Foundation, Lahore in Shābān 1410 AH / March 1990 CE. After this, work continued at a quick pace and in the space of 15 years, thirty volumes of the new edition were published.¹³ This edition has received various reprints. This edition contains 206 monographs and the credit of this achievement goes to our esteemed teacher Állāmah Muftī Ábdu'l Qayyūm Hazārvi.¹⁴

I must emphasis here, that the major portion of credit to our 22-volume edition goes to the previous editions and the great men who made this feat possible with their untiring efforts – such voluminous fatāwā were transformed from manuscript to being published and then translated and cross-referenced. If these scholars had not done the monumental work they did, it would not have been possible for us to present this edition either. We thank and acknowledge our elders, their companions and all those who contributed in the publication of the previous two editions of the fatāwā. We beseech Allāh táālā to reward them all immensely.

In 2016, Muftī Muḥammad Ḥanīf Khān Rizwī decided to produce a new edition, with modern formatting and composing. He provided our organisation, Idārah e Ahl e Sunnat, an opportunity to participate in this important project.

In the course of this publication, we had to face a number of problems including technical issues of printing and composing, the details of which I will omit in the interest of maintaining brevity.

The validation of various monographs in subjects such as geography, geometry, astronomy, mathematics and study of time [tawqīt] was very difficult as well. We have tried to have these works verified and corrected by subject matter specialists as much as possible and in places where we could not, we have left it as it was found.

May Allāh reward all those who have contributed in this project.

¹³ In the preface to the first volume, it is mentioned that the work on cross-referencing [takhrīj] and translation had already started in 1985. A publishing arm Raza Foundation under the aegis of Jami'ah Nizamiyyah of Lahore was established in March 1988 with the major objective of producing and publishing a cross-referenced, source-validated translated and reformatted edition of Fatāwā Ridāwiyyah. Ḥāfiẓ Ábd al-Sattār Sa'yīdī says in the preface of the 30th volume dated Rajab 1426 / August 2005: "The publication of the new edition of Fatāwā Ridāwiyyah started in Shābān 1410 / March 1990, and in a short span of 15 years thirty volumes have now been successfully published".

¹⁴ Muftī Ábdu'l Qayyūm Hazārvi Qādirī passed away in August 2003.

FEATURES OF THE LATEST 22-VOLUME EDITION OF FATAWA RIDAWIYYAH

The publication of the Fatāwā has passed through various phases and was carried admirably by many researchers, scholars and publishers in its journey so far. But this great work was published in an old style of writing which is tedious to read and is hence abandoned in the present time.

Books in Urdu, small or big, are all being composed on computers and published with computer typesetting and modern formatting.¹⁵ Hence, it was decided that Fatāwā Razawiyyah should also be printed in a modern format. One of the most important features of this edition is that great care has been given to ensure the accuracy of the text – especially in citations of passages from sources. A number of errors had crept in such citations of previous editions,¹⁶ which have now been removed to a great extent. One hundred additional fatāwā are included in this edition, which are not found in earlier editions. Also, sixteen more monographs have been included in this edition, the names of which are:

1. Kashf al-illah ān Samt al-Qiblah [Volume 4]
2. Qānūn e Ru'yat e Ahillah [Volume 8]
3. Al-Kashfu Shāfiyā Hukm Fonografia [Volume 16] in Arabic
4. Anwār al-Mannān fī Tawhīd al-Qur'ān [Volume 16]
5. Al-Ijāzāt al-Matīnah li Ūlamā'a Bakkah wa'l Madīnah [Volume 16]
6. Al-Qawl al-Najīh li Iḥqāqi al-Ḥaqq al-Ṣarīḥ [Volume 18]
7. Marginalia on the above: Al [Volume 18]
8. Al-Farq al-Wajīz bayn al-Sunnī al-Āzīz wa'l Wahabiyy al-Rajīz [Volume 18]
9. Al-Hidāyah al-Mubārakah fī Khalq al-Malā'ikah [Volume 18]
10. Māḥiyatu'l Āyb bi Īlm al-Ghayb [Volume 18]

¹⁵ Older styles did not have paragraph demarcations and were calligraphed – written by a scribe and then printed by photo-offset. Numbering, column separation and other modern formats for easier reading were not used.

¹⁶ Due to various reasons such as unfamiliarity of the scribes with Arabic script in the manuscripts etc.

The astute reader will notice that the style of referencing varies across volumes; this is because a number of scholars from two different organisations collaborated on this project and obviously, the styles will differ. In spite of everything we have strived hard to make sure that every citation has been referenced. In this regard, my esteemed teacher Államah Muḥammad Aḥmad Miṣbāḥī¹⁷ has helped in correction and validation of various passages; I take this opportunity to express my gratitude to him.

The style of research and cross-referencing of our organisation, Idārah Ahl e Sunnat can be seen in the first six volumes and the Arabic monographs in this 22-volume edition. None of the prevalent formatting styles can be considered as ‘absolutely correct’ or ‘the only right way’ and each method has its own advantages and admirers. However, we have tried to follow modern publishing standards and therefore used formatting elements such as numbering, punctuation marks such as commas, dashes, full stops, question marks, exclamation marks, demarcation of paragraphs etc. We have also moved around some monographs across volumes [changed the order present in earlier editions].

The following twelve monographs were penned by the Imām in Arabic and can be found scattered in various volumes of the Fatāwā:

1. Ajlā al-Iylām anna al-Fatwā Muṭlaqan ālā Qawl al-Imām [Volume 1]
2. Al-Ẓafar li Qawli Zufar [Volume 3]
